Mobile Computing
Killer App Competition

What:

UF's Mobile Computing Killer App Competition is organized in connection with the Mobile Platforms class taught by Professor Sumi Helal of the CISE Department. The competition is aligned with the class term project in which teams of students pursue their dream apps targeting Android, iOS, Windows Phone or Mobile Web platforms. Trendy Entertainment – Gainesville's premier mobile gaming company is sponsoring the competition this year, providing cash awards for the top three apps, and a group of volunteer judges led by Mr. Augi Lye, Trendy's Founder and CEO. Established 12 years ago by Professor Helal, the competition has in the past been sponsored three times by Motorola Corp. and once by Microsoft Research.

When:

Mark your calendar for April 16, 2013. The competition will start at 3:00pm and will last for about 100 minutes. Each team will give a flash, 5 minutes presentation and demo of their app.

The announcement of the winners will be made in another follow up meeting on April 18. Details of such meeting will be announced on April 16.

Where:

The competition will be held at the Gainesville HackerSpace in downtown Gainesville (see http://skillhouse.org/space/ for directions).
